I/we agree that I/we am/are solely responsible for all medical costs associated with any accident or injury involving my child during events and travel to and from events. I/we also agree that neither the Evangelical Covenant Church, the Northwest Conference, Bethlehem Covenant Church, nor any agents, volunteers and/or employees associated with events, will be held liable on account of my child.

Event Policies

Bethlehem Covenant requires those participating on any/all Student Ministries events to exhibit:

- Safety, sobriety and adherence to the law. No firearms, weapons or fireworks are allowed. No student drivers to/from events. No alcohol, tobacco or illicit drugs. No abuse, confrontation, intimidation or misconduct will be tolerated; this includes bullying of any kind.
- Full participation at all events. No foul language or put-downs. No headsets, iPods, or any personal electronic gear (unless it's been specifically allowed). Cell phones are allowed, but must be kept silent and out of site. Chronic texters may lose their phones for the duration of an event.
- Modesty. One-piece swimsuits (or two-piece with shirt over) required for any swimming events. Clothing that covers more than your swimsuit does is mandatory. No public displays of affection (No private displays of affection either, for that matter).
- Respect for those around you. This means respect towards others, their space and their stuff. This also means showing up with a good attitude, ready to interact positively with the group. As always: no guys/girls in areas designated for the opposite sex.

These policies can be distilled into one over-arching rule: No Stupid Stuff. Abiding by this single guideline assures that we can all enjoy events together.
